

August 21, 1891

My dear Father

I am afraid I am going to make you again very uncomfortable. — But upon consideration.

excuse me once again taking my opinion on the offer of the voyage. —

My excuse & reason is, in the different ways all the Wedgwoods now the subject from what you & my sisters do. —

I have given Uncle too, what I formerly thought is an accurate & full list of your expectations & he is finding enough to give his opinion on all. — The list & his answers will be enclosed. — But may I beg of you one favor. it will be doing me